(c) and (d) Post Offices are opened subject to fulfillment of distance, population and income norms. In consonance with the policy directives of the 10th Plan regarding rationalization of the postal network, no plan targets have been allotted for opening of new post offices since 2004-05. However, if justification for opening a Post Office is found, it can only be opened by relocation of an existing post office which is no longer justified, on the departmental norms in its present location. Thus, there is no time frame for opening of post offices.
